Doctoral Student Presentation Travel Fund Application

The School of Public Affairs and Administration strongly encourages its doctoral students to present solo-authored or co-authored papers at scholarly conferences. Accordingly, SPAA will make up to $650 available to doctoral students for out-of-state travel and up to $1000 available for international travel for these purposes.

To apply for funding, submit the following to Diana Koslowsky (dianak@ku.edu):

1. A completed application form, including all signatures
2. A one-page abstract of the presentation
3. Proof of acceptance

Please note:

1. This form requires the signature of your advisor or a faculty member who is familiar with your research and the conference you plan to attend.
2. Applications will be processed on a routine basis (first-come, first-served) until funds are exhausted.
3. The purpose must be to present research at a national or regional scholarly meeting held out-of-state.
4. Doctoral students must be currently enrolled in the Public Administration PhD program to apply.
5. There is a limit of one award per applicant per year.
