Ph.D. Degree Requirements

The PhD requires a minimum of 75 credit hours, including 66 credit hours of courses and 9 or more hours of dissertation credit. Students may count up to 30 hours of credit earned toward an MPA degree, or equivalent, toward the required 66 hours. Students who enter the doctoral program without having earned an MPA or its equivalent must complete all MPA core courses in SPAA or the comparable 900-level doctoral courses, except they may choose to take either PUAD 835 State and Local Public Finance or PUAD 837 Budgeting and Resource Allocation.

The requirements for the Ph.D. are based on formal course work and independent study in several fields:

- Foundations of public administration
- Specialization field within public administration
- Cognate field
- Methods sequence
