Education

---

Ph.D., Geography, Indiana University, July 2010
Minor: Urban Affairs, School of Public and Environmental Affairs (SPEA)
M.A., Geography, Indiana University, August 2006
B.A., Political Science & Public Policy, Rice University, May 2003

---

Major Research Interests

---

The integration of alternative fuel, autonomous vehicle, mobility-as-a-service, and smart city technologies into the transportation fleet, focusing on attitudes, perceptions, travel behavior, policies, and spatial components influencing adoption and use
Travel behavior, focusing on the effects of cost, land-use, policy, planning, spatial components, and new technologies on modal choice and the implications for transportation sustainability

Major Teaching Interests and Expertise

---

Human Impact on the Environment
GIScience and Spatial Analysis
Quantitative Research Methods
Planning and Economic Development

Smart Cities and Smart Transportation
Sustainable Transportation
Transportation Planning and Policy
Urban and Regional Planning
